JOSEPH A. WILLIAMS

Joseph A. Williams

AN exponent of humor and whimsical philosophy—that is “Uncle Joe.” No theme, other than the one we have chosen, would fit this personality so well.

Without the opportunity for presenting this man, who has been such a prominent figure in the history education of Appalachian State Teachers College, this would have been an incomplete book.

In “Uncle Joe” we have all found a sympathetic and trusting friend. His quaint weather observations have endeared him to us. His never-failing “Howdy” has been a constant joy and delight throughout each year.

Because of these and many other things that have made you such an integral part of our college days—to you, “Uncle Joe,” we dedicate this, the Nineteen Hundred and Forty RHODODENDRON.

MORE of yourself than you suspect is in this yearbook. It is not intended to be a static memorial in printer's ink but a symbol of another mile covered . . . a little peg on which to hang your thoughts . . . an epitome of part of the world you lived . . . a tangible world that you will see again, some day, with an eye tempered by experiences yet to come.

Foreword

So, with this in mind, we have embellished this record with the words of more articulate philosophers, who, passing this way, pondered the vagaries of life.

COLLEGE—Book One—As represented by the structures and administrative and academic personnel. CLASSES—Book Two—The four scholastic sub-divisions of the student body.

and contents

ATHLETICS — Book Three — A record of physical activities and competitions. ACTIVITIES—Book Four—Clubs, societies and publications. FEATURES — Book Five — May Court, superlatives, sponsors, campus.

What is the first business of one who studies philosophy? To part with self-conceit. For it is impossible for any one to begin to learn what he thinks that he already knows.

—Epictetus (Circa A.D. 60).

In philosophy, it is not the attainment of the goal that matters, it is the things that are met with by the way.

—Havelock Ellis (1859- ).

Asked what he gained from philosophy, he answered, "To do without being commanded what others do from fear of the laws."

—Diogenes Laertius (Circa A.D. 200).

istories make men wise; poets, witty;
the mathematics, subtle;
natural philosophy, deep;
moral, grave; logic and rhetoric, able to contend.

Francis Bacon
1561-1626

COLLEGE

Book
One

*How charming is divine philosophy!
Not harsh and crabbed, as dull fools
suppose,
But musical as is Apollo's lute,
And a perpetual feast of nectar'd sweets
Where no crude surfeit reigns.*

—JOHN MILTON (1608-1674).

"A teacher who can arouse a feeling for one single good action, for one single good poem, accomplishes more than he who fills our memory with classified with name and form."

—Johann Wolfgang Goethe (1749-1832).

here are three classes of intellects: one which comprehends, by itself; another which appreciates what others comprehend; and a third which neither comprehends by itself nor by the showing of others; the first is the most excellent, the second is good, the third is useless.

Niccolò Machiavelli - 1469 - 1527

Book
Two

A little philosophy inclineth man's mind to atheism, but depth in philosophy bringeth man's mind about to religion.

—FRANCIS BACON (1561-1626).

"FOR as I like a young man in whom there is something of the old, so I like an old man in whom there is something of the young; and he who follows this maxim, in body will possibly be an old man, but he will never be an old man in mind."

—Marcus Tullius Cicero (106-43 B.C.).

APPALACHIAN FROM NEARBY MOUNTAIN PEAK

Keep coming back for all they've got, and take it with a grin --- When disappointment trips you up or failure barks your shin; Keep coming back -- and if at last you lose the game of right
-- Set those who whipped you know
at least they, too, have had a fight.

Brantland Rice - 1880 -

ATHLETICS

Book
Three

Philosophy should be an energy; it should find its aim and its effect in the amelioration of mankind.

—VICTOR HUGO (1802-1885).

Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs, even though checkered by failure, than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they live in the gray twilight that knows not victory nor defeat.

—THEODORE ROOSEVELT (1858-1919).

ACTIVITIES

Book
Four

Whatever philosophy may determine of material nature, it is certainly true of intellectual nature, that it abhors a vacuum.

—SAMUEL JOHNSON (1709-1784).

Scilurus on his death-bed, being about to leave four-score sons surviving, offered a bundle of darts to each of them, and bade them break them. When all refused, drawing out one by one, he easily broke them—thus teaching them that if they held together, they would continue strong; but if they fell out and were divided, they would become weak.

—Plutarch (A.D. 46-120).

Dear Sarah, I hope that you know how I feel... without my having to write it in your annual. In case you have forgotten honey, I love you and I think you are tops. I hope this coming year will be as the last two have and it will be perfectly.
Whenever I don't do exactly what I should - it's not because I don't love you - but I'm inclined to be a little old maidish & queer. Don't ever forget the fun mine ad. tag bud.

Young lady, what's your name?
Young ladies and young gentlemen.

DR. ABRAMS:

Memorize the first ten lines.
I wish that blasted bell wouldn't ring this morning, we're in such a beautiful passage.

MISS LILES:

Is anyone absent today?
Do you follow me in this, class?
Isn't that musical? Isn't it, isn't it, isn't it?

DR. WHITENER:

I don't think anyone will find this course very difficult.
Now that should have been true, but no—no, it wasn't.
There are more fools per square inch among college professors than among any other class of people.

DR. WARMAN:

Well now what's the next question?

Our time is limited—too much picnic spirit.

MISS ELLIS:

I have checked your papers.
1, 2, 3, 4—push, pull; 1, 2—loop.

DR. EGGERS:

Endorse a sheet of paper, please.
I am not sarcastic; I am ironic.

How many in here have read "Gone With the Wind" (Everyone raises hand): Now how many have read twenty of Shakespeare's plays? How many in here have read twelve books of "Paradise Lost?"

MISS LEDBETTER:

When I was at the University of Chicago.

PROFESSOR GREENE:

Now if you don't know just say so.

Tomorrow I am going to lock the door and if you are late you can stay out.

Ha, ha, ha!

It's seven o'clock, I believe.

Kellogg's CEREALS GO TO COLLEGE

Yes, a fellow has to eat at school just the same as he does at home. And Kellogg's Cereals are there to satisfy his appetite in the same good, crisp, wholesome way. It would be hard to find a college in the country where Kellogg's Cereals are not featured. So always ask for Kellogg's—any one of the delicious cereals—and you can be sure you'll get just what you want.

The World's Most Popular Ready-to-eat Cereal

A FINAL WORD

Our hope is that our ideas presented in this RHODODENDRON will meet with your approval, for after all, it is your book. We were chosen by you to do this job and are conscious of the honor that goes with the privilege.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to those people, without whose help and time, this book could not be possible:

Mr. Bill Mitchell of the Observer Printing House for his efforts in laying and printing this book.

Mr. M. F. Dunbar for his excellent photography and fine coöperation.

Prof. A. Antonakos for his unselfish efforts in all activities and his splendid photography.

Dr. W. Amos Abrams for his time and labor so altruistically devoted during campus elections.

Coach Stewart and the Athletic Department for their splendid coöperation.

Prof. Howell, Faculty Adviser, for the confidence he has shown in the ability of the staff and his sensible advice when needed.

And to those we have missed by name MANY THANKS.

Stability

SINCE time, mountain peaks have served man as landmarks; they are stable, dependable in character. To many annual staffs, through more than forty-nine years, the OBSERVER PRINTING HOUSE has served as a landmark, a guide in the producing of FINE ANNUALS.

Our quality, our service, the experience of trained personnel both in advisory capacity and in mechanical production, have ever been outstanding. Over forty-nine years of continuous service is proof of stability.

Sarah,

Nice is hardly the word to use in expressing you. No stuff, it's swell to know that I have acquired a friendship with a fine bodied girl like you. I shall never forget you or <sup>the</sup> others in your club. Be good and keep on the straight and narrow.
